

Lisa Feldstein

Lisa Feldstein the Public Health Law Program's Senior Policy Director for the Land Use and Health Program has worked in affordable housing and land use for nearly fifteen years working with local governments and non-profits on a broad range of housing- community development- and land use-related issues. Ms. Feldstein also served as a San Francisco Planning Commissioner where she was a strong advocate for community-based planning that incorporated such beneficial built components as open space and grocery stores. Her interest in food access and food security is long-standing; in college Ms. Feldstein managed a campus-based food cooperative.

Lisa graduated magna cum laude from the University of Massachusetts at Boston with a B.A. in American Studies – Urban Focus and earned her J.D. from the Boalt Hall School of Law at the University of California at Berkeley. She is the author of General Plans and Zoning: A Toolkit on Land Use and Health.