

Myles Lynk

Myles Lynk is the Peter Kiewit Foundation Professor of Law and the Legal Profession at the Arizona State University College of Law, and a Faculty Associate of ASU's Center for the Study of Law, Science and Technology. He teaches administrative law, business organizations, civil procedure and professional responsibility. Professor Lynk is a graduate of the Harvard Law School. He served as a law clerk to Judge Damon Keith on the United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit, and he has served as a Special Assistant to the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare and as an Assistant Director on the White House Domestic Policy Staff. He has been involved in many scholarly and professional activities over his career, including responses of the American legal system to 9/11, governance and regulatory issues, civil rights, and the future of the legal profession. For many years, he worked in Washington DC as a litigator in federal and local courts.