

John M. Cleland

John M. Cleland has been a general jurisdiction trial judge in Pennsylvania since 1984. He currently serves on the Board of Trustees of the University of Pittsburgh and on the Board of Visitors of the University's Graduate School of Public Health. He has been involved in biohazard and bioterror public health planning for the Pennsylvania courts.