

Nadav Davidovitch

Nadav Davidovitch, MD, MPH, PhD is a Lecturer in the Division of Public Health Ben Gurion University Israel. He is currently a Fulbright Scholar in the Center for the History and Ethics of Public Health at Columbia University's Mailman School of Public Health studying the various impacts of immigration on the health domain. He is also working on various notions of contested science in alternative medicine and vaccination policy as well as on mediation and public health. His co-edited book with Michal Alberstein Trauma and Memory: Reading Healing and Making Law is forthcoming from the Stanford University Press.