

Montrece McNeill Ransom

Montrece McNeill Ransom, JD currently serves as the Director of the Community Public Health Legal Preparedness Initiative (CPHLP) with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's (CDC) Public Health Law Program. Ms. Ransom's responsibilities have included serving as director for the CDC's annual Public Health Law Conference as CDC liaison for the Public Health Law Association as a legal resource for the Dekalb County Board of Health. As the director of CPHLP a partnership of the American Bar Association (ABA) Public Health Law Association and CDC Ms. Ransom works to ensure that healthcare and public health attorneys increase their knowledge about public health law and legal preparedness for public health emergencies. Ms. Ransom is a vice-chair of the Public Health and Policy Interest Group of the Health Law Section of the ABA and is a licensed member of the Georgia Bar. She is a graduate of the University of Alabama School of Law and holds an undergraduate degree in Speech Communications from Columbus State University Columbus Georgia where she currently serves as an adjunct professor.