

Grace R. Schuyler

Grace R. Schuyler Esquire is employed as Senior Counsel for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Department of Health. In addition to handling litigation matters on behalf of the Department she is the program attorney for the Office of Public Health Preparedness and the Bureau of Epidemiology. She is a graduate of Dickinson School of Law Carlisle PA.

Ms. Schuyler's previous employment was in the area of insurance defense litigation. She was employed as the Managing Attorney and Senior Trial Counsel in two insurance company litigation offices. She was also employed in the position of Litigation Counsel in the (U.S.) Home Office of an international insurance company.

In addition to her litigation background she has also conducted extensive training seminars and presentations on litigation management at national conferences for the insurance industry.