

Patricia Speck

Dr. Pat Speck is a nationally recognized family nurse practitioner expert in sexual assault forensic nursing. She consults about and is an expert in program evaluation forensic nursing practice policy and education of forensic nurses has published professionally lectures internationally and has been honored with over 20 local national and international awards. She is CEO of Shelby International the Executive Director of Forensic Nursing Services and is an Assistant Professor in the Forensic Nursing Option at the University of Tennessee Health Science Center College of Nursing in Memphis TN. She is the Immediate Past President (2005-6) of the International Association of Forensic Nurses a Board of Directors member of the Drug Court Foundation the Midtown Exchange Club and Arkwings in her local community and an expert advisor to a number of government and not-for-profit organizations.